Judgment in Case of Man
Killed in 1943 Stands
Only Against Railroad

Justice Francis Bergan, following motions at special term in Albany on July 11, has made an order which has been entered in the county clerk's office dismissing the complaint of Ernest Hoppe, by administrator, against Walter G. Williams and Fannie Williams Lebert, individually, and doing business as Williams Lake in the town of Rosendale.

The order dismissing the complaint is in response to motions made at the trial last January when an action was brought by the Hoppe administrator for the estate of a man killed in an accident at the Walkill Valley Railroad crossing near Williams Lake on March 21, 1943, against the New York Central Railroad, Williams Lake and Walter G. Williams and Fannie Williams Lebert, individually, and the Ulster County Construction Company, Inc., was tried before Justice Bergan here. At that time motions to dismiss the complaint and later to set aside a $10,000 verdict were made by all parties. Justice Bergan at that time reserved decision, except in the case of the Ulster County Construction Company, Inc., in which action a dismissal was granted on motion of Peter H. Harp who appeared for that defendant, and the railroad motion which was denied.

The jury returned a verdict against the New York Central Railroad and Williams Lake Company which is operated by Walter G. Williams and Fannie Williams Lebert, in the sum of $10,000. Motions were made by Cohen & McGuirk of New York to dismiss the complaint against Williams and Lebert at special term and Justice Bergan has granted that motion, ruling on his reservation made at the time of the trial.

The judgments, which amount to $12,500.00, including interest and costs now stands against only the railroad.

Lloyd R. LeFever appeared for plaintiff and Harry H. Flemming appeared at the trial for the railroad.

Will Appeal Ruling

New York, July 23 (AP)—Lady Iris Mountbatten, 27-year-old cousin of King George VI and great-granddaughter of Queen Victoria, says she hopes to remain in this country and will appeal a Bureau of Immigration and Naturalization order that she leave the United States by September 1.

She announced her wish at a press conference yesterday shortly after Magistrate Ambrose J. Badolati ruled in Federal Court that he had been notified charges made against her in Washington, D. C., for the issuance of $185 in worthless checks had been withdrawn. "I'd like to stay here for a while," Lady Iris said. "I've been very happy here. I love this country in spite of this incident."

To Hold Conference

Washington, July 23 (AP)—President Truman will hold his weekly news conference at 10:30 a. m. (9:30, Eastern Standard Time) tomorrow.

Mrs. Herbert Johnson
Is Victim of Heart
Attack; Coroner
Gives Verdict

Rifton, July 23—Mrs. Herbert Lee Johnson died of a heart attack here this morning about 10:30 o'clock unattended while her bed-ridden mother-in-law, Mrs. Blanche Johnson, tried in vain to summon aid.

Coroner Ernest A. Kelly gave a verdict of death from natural causes after his investigation which revealed that Mrs. Johnson, a Christian Science believer, had complained of a heart ailment but refused to see a physician.

According to the report of Coroner Kelly and that of Clayton Vredenburg and Leonard Belmonte of the sheriff's office, Mrs. Blanche Johnson in bed with a fractured hip heard her daughter-in-law fall about 8:30 a. m.

Asked Help Be Called

Although she was unable to arise from the floor, the stricken woman was strong enough to converse with her mother-in-law, and said that she was feeling very ill, and asked that help be called.

The elderly woman, who has been in bed with the hip fracture for more than a month, was unable to make herself heard by neighbors, and even rapped frantically on the side of her bed to attract attention.

It was not until Mrs. Barbara Terpening, accustomed to making regular morning visits to the elder Mrs. Johnson, and Rose Freilich appeared about 10:20 a. m. that the stricken woman was given aid. She was still conscious when they arrived, the sheriff's men said, and conversed with them.

Dr. Edward F. Shea of 206 Wall street was summoned but Mrs. Johnson was dead when he arrived. She succumbed at 10:30, approximately 10 minutes after the arrival of the two women.

It was learned that Mrs. Johnson had suffered a decline in health after the death of her father about a year ago. She was a native of Champaign, Ill., and before marriage to Mr. Johnson, a watchmaker employed at the George A. Schneider jewelry shop on Broadway, Kingston, was Pauline Mediam.

The body was removed to the E. A. Kelly Funeral Home, 111 West Chester street, Kingston, pending funeral arrangements.

Parents Stick to Story

Massillon, O., July 23 (AP)—Six-year-old Roger Gue's parents steadily maintained today that their son was not involved in the deaths of two infant girls at Massillon City Hospital, last June 6 as officials investigating the case, split sharply into two camps.

Mrs. Roger Gue, the boy's mother, said Roger's earlier story he had seen a white-coated boy enter the hospital nursery was the truth—but a statement he had made Sunday that he had dropped eight-week-old Diane Jean Brand and 10-week-old Rosemary Morton while playing was not true. "My husband and I won't believe that Roger did it," Mrs. Gue said last night.

Six Persons Killed

Berlin, July 23 (AP)—At least six persons were killed and four were injured today when a mysterious explosion rocked a German police headquarters building in the Russian zone of Berlin. Police said they believed the blast might have originated in a room in which guns and ammunition were stored. Two of the four injured persons were reported to be in serious condition.

Senator Says Clark
Should Clear Fraud
Vote Investigation

Ferguson Says Act Would
Be in Justice to Clark;
Hatch Says Move
Is 'Politics'

Washington, July 23 (AP)—Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) said today that "in justice to himself" Attorney General Clark ought to help clear the way for a senatorial investigation into his handling of Kansas City vote fraud charges.

Ferguson's call for a break in the solid Democratic opposition which has stalled Senate action on a pending inquiry resolution came on top of these other developments in the controversy:

1. Senator Hatch (D-N. M.) labeled as "politics" a charge by Republican National Chairman Carroll Reece that the opposition party's "frenzied efforts" to prevent an inquiry offer "conclusive evidence of Democrat desperation on the eve of the 1948 presidential campaign."

2. Senator Langer (R-N. D.) defended Clark's action in the Kansas City case, shouting to the Senate that "if a federal gestapo from Washington runs elections, we will soon have the same control over elections as they have in foreign countries."

3. With the G.O.P. leadership still stymied in its efforts to get Senate action on the inquiry resolution sponsored by Senator Kim (R-Mo.), Rep. Ploeser (R-Mo.) stood ready to introduce a similar proposal in the House, where Republican control is such that it could force speedy action.

Asked Special Probe

Kern has sought a special committee investigation of Clark's action for a preliminary inquiry into vote buying charges in which 1946 Democratic primary in which Enos A. Axtell won the Fifth Missouri District congressional nomination. Axtell, supported by President Truman, later was defeated by Rep. Albert Reeves, a Republican.

A Clark first reported no evidence was found of federal law violations. Later he appointed a special prosecutor who obtained the indictment of five persons.

Ferguson told a reporter "this is a serious matter. It indicates that there was something there all the time, and the attorney general should have known it."

"In justice to himself," the Michigan senator added, "the attorney general ought to ask the Democrats to drop their opposition to this investigation. He ought to have the chance to defend himself on the accusations that have been made against him."

Hatch told a reporter he thinks it would be a waste of time to go over again the inquiry into Clark's actions already conducted by a Senate judiciary subcommittee which Ferguson headed.

"In my judgment, the case has already been thoroughly investigated so far as the attorney general is concerned and there is no reason to believe anything more would be developed," the New Mexico senator said.

Hatch, said Reece, was "only talking politics," when the G.C.P. chairman contended, in a statement last night that "a full revelation of conditions" in Kansas City would "very seriously impair whatever chances Mr. Truman might have for election next year."

Reece said Mr. Truman's election to the Senate in 1934 and 1940 was "made possible only by the fantastic returns from the four Pendergast wards in Kansas City." He alluded to the Pendergast political organization, of

Kingston Canning Center
Opens for Third Season

The Kingston canning center, sponsored by the Kingston Board of Education, opened today for its third season at the City Home, Flatbush avenue and the bypass. Last year the center was used by more than 500 people, many of whom came back five to ten times to can various fruits and vegetables. During the past season an equivalent of 37,000 cans of fruits and vegetables were processed at the center.

The 1946 season saw the center used by far more people than during the opening season of 1945.

At the present time people are canning beans, raspberries, and some beets, all of which are now quite reasonable in price for those who have to purchase the vegetables.

Whether or not a person has canned at the center before, they will be welcome to use the facilities and an instructor will be present to give instructions on canning. Arrangements may be made by calling the canning center at 3176-W or the high school 1970 for an appointment. Patrons bring fruits and vegetables to be canned and the containers are supplied at the center at cost.

It was announced that the center will be in operation from 9 to 3 on days when patrons have produce to can. In the rush season of August and September the canning center will work daily and when the demand warrants it, will be open evenings. Both men and women are welcome to use the facilities of the center.

Tannersville Woman
Dies of Gas Poison

New York, July 23 (AP)—A woman tentatively identified as Mrs. G. Runco, 40, of Tannersville, N. Y., in Greene county, was found dead of gas poisoning last night in a room at an uptown apartment house where she had registered about 6 p. m. yesterday.

Police said the woman was found lying across a bed, holding in her mouth one end of a rubber tube connected to a gas stove. Doors and windows of the apartment had been sealed with adhesive tape.

Two notes were found, one addressed to police and the other to the woman's husband. The one to police said: "Please keep this letter confidential. Do not give it to the press; it will spare my family a little."

Exhibit Will Open July

Through August 31
at City Park

The Community Art Exhibit which will open at Lawton Park Saturday under the auspices of the Kingston Recreation Department is beginning to take shape and already a number of art pieces have been hung in one of the rooms in the park building. When the display is completed it is expected that the entire building will be put to use to display the work of local artists.

Alexander S. Furman, supervisor of crafts in the Recreation Department, is supervising the arrangement of the display which will remain open for the free inspection of the public until August 31. Already a number of pieces of art by Kingston, Woodstock and New Paltz artists have been placed.

Included in the display will also be a number of paintings by prominent artists which were presented to Mr. Furman, who is graduate of the University of Vienna. The Community Art Exhibit at Lawton Park will be the first community art exhibit of its kind ever held in Kingston, Harry L. Edson, acting superintendent of the Kingston Department of Recreation, said today.

Edson said that there will be no admission to the exhibit or will a collection be taken. During the exhibit a number of boys interested in the local recreation program will act as traffic directors and guides at the exhibit.

Also included in the display will be paintings by several of the children who are studying art in the public schools of Kingston under the art and craft program which is being conducted in the grade schools under the direction of the Recreation Department. These classes are held during the school year in grade schools and

Harrison Reports
Food Available for Needs of People

Washington, July 23 (AP)—The State Department announced today that Poland's share of the $350,000,000 American foreign relief program has been canceled.

The action was taken on the recommendation of Col. R. H. Harrison, a special assistant to Secretary of Agriculture Anderson, who made a survey of Poland's minimum food needs for Secretary of State Marshall.

Grain, Foods Available

Harrison reported that "grain and other foods are available to meet the minimum food needs of the Polish people generally for the balance of this calendar year."

He said imports of medical supplies and supplementary foodstuffs for special groups appear justified and that some imports of grain seed and fertilizer would be helpful.

The State Department said in its announcement, however, that such special items could be supplied through private relief agencies and other sources, such as the International Emergency Children's fund. The announcement added:

"In view of the above and of the fact that the needs of the most urgent relief needs, it has been decided not to undertake a relief program for Poland."

Newsprint Prices
May Be Lowered

Better Supplies May Come in Near Future, Is Report in Congress

Washington, July 23 (AP)—The House Newsprint Committee held out to the nation's publishers today the hope of lower newsprint prices and more newsprint in the future.

In a report to the House, the committee headed by Rep. Charles J. Brown (R-Ohio) said paper and newsprint prices "are already at their peak" and three is "no justification for any further paper price increases."

"Instead, it is the belief of the committee that if there are any changes in paper prices during the next few months they should be lower rather than higher."

The committee called for exploration of new sources of paper supply, particularly in the south, criticized federal agencies for excessive use of paper, and announced plans for conferences in Canada within the next few months to discuss the paper situation.

It said there is a possibility that the south can support a newsprint industry to provide from 1,500,000 to 2,000,000 tons of newsprint annually if proper reforestation is followed.

There also are possibilities for establishing paper and newsprint mills in the Rocky mountain area and in Alaska, the committee said. It disclosed plans for these studies in addition to its conferences in Canada:

1. Possibilities of establishing newsprint and paper plants in Alaska and of producing paper from scrub oak in the south.

2. A study of a pilot plant established near Savannah, Ga., to determine production costs of new production processes.

3. New processes for de-inking and reusing waste paper.

4. An investigation of the use of newsprint and paper by federal agencies as a result of evidence that there has been "a wanton waste."

During the first six months of 1947, the committee said, newsprint production in the United States, Canada and Newfoundland amounted to 2,787,231 tons while consumption in the United States alone was 2,337,037 tons.

The committee praised publishers' groups for voluntarily cooperating to cope with the shortage and said that as a result not a single United States newspaper has been forced to suspend publication because of lack of newsprint.

It criticized, without mentioning any names, "a few suppliers" who charged "unconscionable prices."

Its long-range objective, the committee said, was to

On Trial

Chief Signalman Harold E. Hirschberg (above), 29, of Brooklyn, went on trial in New York city before a Navy court martial charged with mistreating fellow prisoners of war at Japanese camps in the Philippine Islands.

Sergeant Declares
Hirschberg Struck
Him in P.W. Camp

James E. Edwards Declares
He Went for Drink of Water, Was Hit
in Face

New York, July 23 (AP)—A former army staff sergeant testified today that Harold E. Hirschberg, under general court martial trial on charges of mistreating fellow prisoners of war, had struck him in the face after he left a work gang and his Japanese guards to get a drink of water.

The witness was James E. Edwards, 30, now a steel mill foreman living at Melrose Park, Ill. He testified for the prosecution on the second day of the court martial.

Previous witnesses had said that Hirschberg, a navy chief signalman, was feared by his fellow prisoners because he was influential with the Japanese and that an American soldier was tortured to death by the Japanese, when Hirschberg reported to them that the man was planning to escape.

Edwards said that he left the ranks of the work gang, which was under Hirschberg's command as a section leader, and got a drink of water at a tap, then left the water running.

"He added that Hirschberg approached and 'hollered' at him. Edwards said he 'yapped, yapped' at Hirschberg and that the section leader then hit him in the face with his fist. There was no blow in return, he testified.

Says Japanese Liked It

Under cross examination by Lt. Cmdr. John J. O'Neil, the defense counsel, Edwards denied that he had called Hirschberg a name.

"Is hollering customary?" O'Neil asked.

"No."

"Do you know if he hollered because it would be effective on 'Jap feelings'?"

"They liked it," Edwards said. O'Neil then told the court: "I want to show that the temper of the men was rubbed to such a raw edge that one word would provoke a blow."

Edwards said the incident occurred on or about May 6, 1942, while both men were prisoners of the Japanese at Nielson Field, Luzon, in the Philippines.

Reinstatement Ordered

Another witness, Capt. Richard T. Pullen, 33-year-old army artillery officer, said he had relieved Hirschberg of his duties as section leader while they were at Camp Murphy in the Philippines but added he later reinstated Hirschberg because "I was ordered to."

He did not say who issued the order.

Pullen had testified yesterday as the first prosecution witness. At that time he said the Americans feared Hirschberg's "influence with the Japanese." He also said the Japanese commander of a prison camp in the Philippines picked Hirschberg by name to head one of the four sections of prisoners in the camp.

Pullen, the only witness called yesterday, said that he as senior officer among the prisoners had named the other three section leaders. He and Hirschberg both were taken prisoner at Corregidor on March 6, 1942.

"Did Hirschberg run a good section?" Pullen asked.

Earth Is Scorched

Indonesians Rob Rich,
Give Sporadic Fight
on 10 Fronts

By STANLEY YSWINTON

Batavia, Java, July 23 (AP)—Dutch troops driving to slice Java in two have pressed to within 12 miles of the key republican stronghold of Malang, an Indonesian army communique acknowledged today.

Other Dutch units were threatening the Indonesian capital of Jogjakarta. The Dutch took the important town of Salatiga, on a 46-mile winding highway to the republican capital.

A dispatch from Associated Press Correspondent Harris Jackson in Jogjakarta quoted a republican communique as saying that meanwhile, the Indonesians in a counter-drive were nearing the outskirts of Dutch-held Semarang, 27 miles north of Salatiga and the base for the jump-off of the Dutch drive toward Jogjakarta.

Indonesian forces have been reported attempting to infiltrate Semarang, an important Dutch military base on the north coast of central Java.

Flight on 10 Fronts

A Dutch communique indicated that motorized columns and armor-protected troops were pushing deep into both Java and Sumatra on at least 10 fronts against sporadic resistance.

The Dutch communique indicated that American-trained marines landed on the north and east coasts of Java already had sealed off a part of East Java by joining at Djember.

The communique said those from the north, where they had established a 55-mile beachhead running from Probolinggo to Situbondo, had struck inland 55 miles to capture Djember and there had been joined by those landed simultaneously at Banjowangi on the east coast.

The army said the avowed Indonesian "scorched earth" policy "manifested itself chiefly in robbing the more well-to-do inhabitants, especially the Chinese, and burning their properties."

Cause of Conflict

The current conflict arose from a disagreement between the Netherlands colonial authorities and the republican government over the method of carrying out the Charter agreement for an independent United States of Indonesia.

On Sumatra, the army communique reported that a Dutch column had moved more than 70 miles to the west of Palembang in the southeastern part of the big island.

Though the column's present location was not revealed, this advance would seem to have put it in control of the rich oil fields that supply the great Shell and Standard refineries at Palembang.

On the Bandeng front in West Java, crack Dutch forces were said to have overrun Segalahang, 15 miles north of Bandeng, and Tandjoengsari, 12 miles east of the same city.

Surround Padang

In Sumatra, in addition to the Palembang advance, the communique reported that in the middle of the island Dutch troops succeeded in surrounding Padang.

Anglo Ship Goes Down
in Haifa Harbor
Following Blast

Jerusalem, July 23 (AP)—Official sources reported today that the British ship Empire Lifeguard had been sunk in Haifa harbor, presumably by saboteurs, shortly after disembarking 261 legal Jewish immigrants transported to the Holy Land from detention camps on Cyprus.

A British release disclosing the sinking said:

"The Empire Lifeguard, a transport returning Jewish immigrants from Cyprus, was sunk this morning in Haifa harbor by an internal explosion after all the immigrants had disembarked."

"It is believed that a charge was placed on board while the ship was taking on the immigrants at Ramatgaza (a port in Cyprus)."

"No casualties have been reported so far."

Advices from Haifa said that fire had broken out aboard the Empire Lifeguard shortly after she arrived in the harbor, and that the immigrants had been hurriedly put ashore.

C.E. Sedaker Expresses Views On Communism, Rent Control

238 Albany Ave.
Kingston, N. Y.
July 18, 1947
To The Editor of The Kingston
Daily Freeman
Dear Mr. Editor:

Thanks, Oh Thanks so much, for printing the article entitled "Americanism or Communism," in your Friday issue. And thanks more than words can express, to the Ertel Engineering Co., the Hutton Co., and the Ulster Foundry Corp., for their magnificent article.

I've been praying that some one who knew the way, as well as the danger, would come forward with some concrete ideas, stating the situation clearly and fearlessly, as these "All American" firms have finally done.

No one knows better than those who have already tasted the bitterness and felt the lash of communist rule as manifested by the late government agencies under the guise of emergency measures, continued long after their "usefulness" was at an end, can appreciate the importance of this timely article, whose every single word is "a pearl of great price."

Our country will never go down in the Stygian darkness of communism. First, because we worship God who is more than a name; more than a belief; more than a pretense. And the "Gates of Hell" shall NOT prevail against Him. Second, because we have men like these who have endorsed this declaration of freedom. They are right; all we need is the understanding of what is going on. (Behind the Iron Curtain) That Iron Curtain has shielded the activities of communists in our government agencies right here in America; and right under the noses of the taxpayers. In fact, the taxpayers (property owners) have been the chief targets for the nefarious persecution practiced by government agencies. The property owners were stripped of their rights completely. Rent control was necessary, and had to be. But the stupid, bull-headed, perverted, malicious, cunning, evil way it was enforced, resulted in closing tight, the only remaining avenue for extra homes, when the new housing failed so miserably; and that avenue was the conversion of large homes with acres of extra space already under roof, needing only small amounts of material to do the job. Ask any red-blooded American, and see what he says. Ask him if he wouldn't have gladly given every available inch of his home, that he didn't actually need for his own use, to make room for our returning soldiers, and at a fair rental, had he dared. Ask him why he didn't. Without an exception he will reply, "I wanted to share my home with these men who had fought it out for me, over there. I WANTED TO. I had by plans all drawn up, and I thought my lucky stars that I had a home that Hitler couldn't kick me out of. When our fighting men came back, looking for places to live, and there weren't any, I was ready to MAKE ROOM for them. There are millions just like me; all wanting to help. But the government clamped down and made it impossible. They told me I could convert, and remodel to my hearts content, BUT, that if I rented to a tenant, I was stuck, indefinitely. Should my original judgment be mistaken, and I found I had undesirable tenants, I could do absolutely nothing about it. I could not ask them to move, for our state laws providing a thirty day notice, were completely voided by the O.P.A. and Rent Control. Attorneys knew better than to argue with them. Under the suave exterior of these government men was an iron fist which came smashing down on common sense and right ideas and human rights, completely demolishing them. Of course there was a sickly pretense at upholding our standards, and common decency, by inserting the proviso that if the tenant was actually a criminal breaking the law or if the home was being used for immoral purposes, you could ask for an eviction; provided you could get the N.E.I.C.B.S. in the block, in which you reside to help you prove these extremes were true. By that time you'd rather move out yourself and let 'em have it, than to find out in the end that you didn't have sufficient proof, and have your tenant laugh in your face.

"No," your average home owner says sadly, "I couldn't take a chance." "I felt plenty guilty not doing it, when I knew how desperately our service men needed help. But I guess self preservation is nature's first law; so I just shut my ears to their cries for help. My home is my castle; and I'll share it with any decent, intelligent person. But I couldn't put up with roudness, drunkenness, disorderliness; and I have to get my sleep; so I couldn't have their radio's blaring into the wee hours of the morning, nor listen to their fighting and wild parties. All of which I would have no control over, once I let them in. If I have no right to judge whether I am satisfied with my tenants; (and the Law tells me I haven't) then I will have no tenants."

And so vanished the last hope of those so deeply in need of what these homeowners had to offer. The government making plans to "Convert your homes into apartments," recognizing the enormous possibilities, almost endless, and then passing this insidious law taking the government of private homes out of the owners' hands, and putting it under Government control." What awful fools we mortals be!

Naturally, anyone with an apartment for rent wants to keep it rented. But CERTAINLY the choice of tenants should be left to his judgment alone. When this is done, we shall immediately have opened a great new territory of potential homes, which alone can relieve the housing shortage.

To make a very bad situation worse, we have our Governor Dewey, who has taken a harsh war measure, which provided a six months eviction notice for home buyers who wish to move into their homes, and doubled it. Governor Dewey has decreed that the war measure was not anywhere near harsh enough. He thinks it should be more severe when there is no emergency, than when there is. So now the state of New York is under the ruling that a property owner must give twelve months notice to a tenant to move. In other words you buy and possibly pay for your home, but the tenant occupying it, with no investment whatever, has a better right to live in it than you have.

With your property rights thus removed, you are still being taxed just the same as if you had some rights in the matter. I suppose it will have to come, and soon, that the owners of the property of our country will begin to tell these governors and a few others, that they aren't going to get away with it much longer.

Who pays the bills? Whose money is it that pays your salaries, you Big Boys with the big stick? Suppose the property owners decide not to turn over their taxes to you any longer. Suppose they get sick and tired of your using their funds to tyrannize over them. Suppose they organize, and withhold their property taxes until their legal rights under the constitution are restored to them? Whose votes will count the most then?

And you veterans: Help us with your votes, when the time comes so that we can help you. Get this foolish legislation out of the way. Every last one of you who is a peace loving, decent citizen would have a swell little apartment of his own today, were it not for the mistaken and malicious legislation depriving the landlord of his right to run his home on a quiet, respectable basis. We heartily agree with reasonable rent control. Without it a revolution would seem to be inevitable. But let's clear the track for home-owners to pick their own tenants as often as seems necessary. The landlord will be only too happy to have you in his apartment if you represent the ideals you were fighting to preserve. You desirable tenants are a vast majority, and we want you in our homes. We merely ask for the right to judge for ourselves, as we have always done, whether a tenant is a nuisance or not. You that are not, should not be made to suffer for the sake of the few that are. Repeat this insane 12 months eviction law that practically prohibits a man from owning a home; cast out this legislation that takes home control out of the hands of the owners; and you will see a sight to gladden your weary hearts. Many doors will be opened to you that must now remain closed.

Communism must be represented by men; and men must eat. Property owners control the purse strings; if they don't pay the Communists don't eat. If we must organize, let's do it before our hands are tied so tight they're come paralyzed. Communism still going strong in high places. Let's show them that in our country the Government is still by the people, and FOR THE PEOPLE.

Bride's Dress Sets Tone Of Wedding

Clouds of tulle! The poal of bells! And you—the serene and lovely bride. To create such a wedding picture, start early to settle questions of budgeting, dress, etiquette.

The type of wedding you have depends on your wedding dress. If it's to be a formal gown with veil, good taste says that other details be formal, too. But if you choose a floor-length dress, a short veil or none, the other details can also be less elaborate. It's up to you to decide which you can afford, for to your family falls most of the expense. They pay for invitations, your wedding outfit and trousseau, bouquets and gifts for your attendants, all expenses connected with the church (except clergyman's fee) and reception.

What are the groom's expenses? What are the bride's duties? What is the etiquette of the reception? See our Reader Service booklet No. 204. Also data on second marriages, procedure when bride's parents are divorced. Send 25 cents (coin) for "How to Plan Your Wedding" to The Kingston Daily Freeman, Reader Service, 243 West 17th street, New York 11, N. Y. Dewey Will Meet Idaho's Leaders; To Visit Cheyenne

En route with Dewey, July 23 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York pushed his Republican presidential nomination campaign into Idaho today after an overnight stay at a dude ranch at Jenny Lake, Wyo., in the shadow of the snow-capped Teton mountain range.

The first scheduled stop (3 p. m., E.S.T.) was Idaho Falls, where Dewey was to meet with Republican leaders from eastern Idaho.

There were reports reaching the Dewey party that G.O.P. leaders from Oregon also would see the Governor at Idaho Falls, but Paul E. Lockwood, Dewey's secretary, said no such meeting has been arranged.

Prior to a conference with Dewey last Saturday near Bozeman, Mont., Ezra R. Whitt, vice chairman of the Republican National Committee from Idaho, said Dewey "is leading in Idaho, as he is in every other state."

Idaho will have 11 delegates at the 1936 national convention.

Republican leaders have told Dewey he is leading in the G.O.P. nomination race in Montana, Missouri, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Texas, Kansas, Utah, Nevada, Washington and Wyoming.

Colorado Republican party chiefs said the nomination fight appears to be between Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio and Dewey. Taft headquarters in Washington have quoted no delegate figures and Dewey forces claim they have about 400 of the 547 delegates needed for nomination.

Dewey is due in Pocatello, Idaho, at 7 p. m., (E.S.T.) and there will board a train for Cheyenne, Wyo., to attend the city's annual Frontier Day rodeo.

The Governor will leave Cheyenne Friday night en route to Owosso, Mich., where he will visit his mother from Sunday until Thursday.

Owosso, where Dewey was born and reared, planned a "welcome home" celebration, but the Governor asked the mayor that it be canceled. He explained through Lockwood that he wanted no fanfare.

Dewey, who is accompanied on his western tour by his wife and two sons, is believed desirous of avoiding anything that might be interpreted as a move to win Michigan's 41 delegates votes at most a year before the convention.

Two Cars Collide

New York, July 23 (AP)—A head-on collision of two Brooklyn trolley cars, injuring 24 persons, was under police investigation today. Five persons were taken to hospitals after the crash late last night, but doctors said none was injured gravely. Police said a Lorimer street car discharged its passengers near Prospect Park, and, starting its return trip, met an oncoming Coney Island avenue car.

Breakdown Expected In Anglo-Red Talks

London, July 23 (AP)—A British government source said today that British-Russian trade talks in Moscow have "taken a turn for the worse and a breakdown now is rather likely."

The informant said that unexpected disagreement had arisen over the price of wheat which Russia planned to trade for British machinery.

Negotiations for the trade pact began some weeks ago and early last week were authoritatively reported to be near a successful conclusion. Government quarters here had no explanation of the sudden new bargaining difficulties.

Paratrooper Receives Honorable Discharge

Syracuse, N. Y., July 23 (AP)—James Minkler, 26, branded a deserter by the U. S. Army while he was fighting as a paratrooper in France under an assumed name has received an honorable discharge from the army, his mother, Mrs. Etta Minkler, disclosed today.

Mrs. Minkler said she had been advised by the Provost Marshal at West Point that her son had been released from confinement Monday, and that his honorable discharge, ordered by President Truman, was "effective on his release from confinement."

Minkler yesterday told his mother in a telephone conversation, she reported, that he had no ill feeling toward the army and "would sign up again if they need me."

He plans to return home as soon as he collects his back pay, she said.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, JULY 23, 1947

THE VIADUCT

The repair or possible demolition of the Washington avenue viaduct, which is becoming more hazardous with time, is a project which will mean much to the City of Kingston.

The viaduct will be an outlet and entrance point for travel over the new Thruway, which is expected to pass the city several hundred feet beyond the city line in the Town of Kingston.

The viaduct was built over the old Ulster and Delaware Railroad, which is now the Catskill Mountain Branch of the West Shore Railroad, and the Ontario and Western Railroad branch line, more than 30 years ago.

Good roads to a community are important. You can't make a community a successful trading center, no matter how attractive the bargains, unless the highways are adequate to carry the shoppers. Isolation does not make for prosperity.

Failure to erect a suitable memorial here for veterans of World War 2 has led to the suggestion that the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge be dedicated to the veterans of World War 1 and World War 2.

SAFEST MILK

Milk from farms in the New York milk shed is the safest for human consumption of any in the world, C. G. Bradt of the College of Agriculture at Cornell, declares.

Ulster County dairy farmers are important contributors toward this record through their efforts in producing a quality product under rigid health regulations.

Great strides have been made in recent years through improved methods of milk handling to guarantee a good product as it leaves the farm. Twenty years ago tuberculosis in dairy cattle was a public health menace. Today the dairy industry maintains herds free of bovine tuberculosis.

In order to keep this record, dairy farmers, milk distributors and boards of health must continue to work together in the public interest.

SWISS VIEWPOINT

George Wehrli, writing from Geneva, says that the practical, hard-headed Swiss are baffled by the Marshall plan for the rehabilitation of Europe.

They see it as a plan to subsidize American exports. They claim that Europe is not starving, except for Western Germany, which America is now feeding. According to their sources, nobody is hungry except "possibly in Russian Europe, some Italian cities, and Vienna." They base their conclusions partly upon the fact that citizens from other European countries crowd Swiss resort hotels and spend money freely. France, especially, is well on the way to prosperity, they observe.

Perhaps, in their strategic position, the Swiss are better qualified to judge the economic state of Europe than are warm-hearted, generous Americans, from their position across the sea. But on the other hand, the ill-fed and unsheltered many cannot be fairly judged by the easy spending few, any more than the run of good, quiet, home-keeping Americans can fairly be judged by a few high-spenders at race tracks and night clubs.

Undoubtedly the proper solution of Europe's problems lies in a combination of magnanimity with hard-headed common sense.

LOVE FINDS A WAY

Longer training for engineering students is a necessity according to President William V. Houston of Rice Institute of Technology which is, oddly, in a city of the same name as that of the president, Houston, Tex. Not only should these students have more humanistic studies in their curriculum, Dr. Houston believes, but also, after graduation, they should follow one to three years apprentice study comparable to a physician's internship.

On first thought this and similar demands of today for longer preparation for all professions would seem to mean that the marriage age of the nation must be pushed ahead with a consequent cut in the birth rate. How is a man going to establish a family at a blo-

MORGENTHAU'S PLAN ENDS

Few events in the conduct of our foreign policy are more important than the abrogation—called "revision" euphemistically—of JCS 1067, the official order implementing the barbarous Morgenthau Plan. It took the Government two years to rid itself of this costly horror. It took a detailed investigation and constant hammering by Herbert Hoover before Mr. Truman finally decided that the Truman Doctrine and the Marshall Plan mean nothing and must fall as long as JCS 1067 continues to be the controlling policy in Europe.

The Morgenthau Plan sought to reduce Germany to a pastoral waste. It was premised on hate and revenge, to be projected into peacetime Europe and to be continued forever. It made revenge an instrument of national policy. It has been called a Cretaceous Peace. Actually, its continuance would have bled the United States white, for it threw upon this country the burden of caring for a people who can care for themselves, of providing them with food that they can grow themselves and machinery which they can make themselves. It reduced Germany to penury, and might have pauperized us by giving justification to European exactions.

Herbert Hoover devoted much of his report on Germany to an analysis and denunciation of JCS 1067. He said:

"We can keep Germany in these economic chains, but it will also keep Europe in rags."

He denounced Morgenthau's illusions in such terms:

"There is the illusion that the New Germany left after the annexations can be reduced to a 'pastoral state.' It cannot be done unless we exterminate or move 25,000,000 people out of it. This would approximately reduce Germany to the density of the population of France."

He asked the extremely pertinent question as to how long the American taxpayer can continue to stand the strain of the heavy contributions to Germany. He said:

"The United States, through loans, lend-lease, surplus supplies, and relief, in the last two years, has spent or pledged itself to spend, over fifteen billions of dollars in support of civilians in foreign countries. Even we do not have the resources for, nor can our taxpayers bear, a continuation of burdens at such a rate."

"There is only one path to recovery in Europe. That is production. The whole economy of Europe is interlinked with German economy through the exchange of raw materials and manufactured goods. The productivity of Europe cannot be restored without the restoration of Germany as a contributor to the productivity."

All this is worth recalling because it is difficult to understand how our government could continue this costly and self-defeating policy so long. Perhaps the reason was the fear of opposition in New York and other large cities where articulate and groggy devote themselves to a permanent hatred of the German war and production of the realistic issues that have grown out of the war. National policy cannot be based upon such considerations.

At any rate, JCS 1067 is no more. In the State Department a group of officials fought hard to keep this monstrosity alive. Some of them had originally been in the army with Henry Morgenthau, as for instance Charles F. Kindelberger, chief of the economic desk of the German section. As recently as last May, Walter Walkinshaw of the State Department officially denied that JCS 1067 was any longer binding. Yet on July 15, 1947, his own government renounces it in this language:

"The United States and the production of Germany are interlinked with German economy through the exchange of raw materials and manufactured goods. The productivity of Europe cannot be restored without the restoration of Germany as a contributor to the productivity."

At times one desk in the State Department does not seem to know what some other desk is actually doing about policy. Certainly the group that fought to continue the Morgenthau Plan was not serving the publicity stated policy of the President and their own Secretary of State. They were serving a little group of wild men who in the Roosevelt Administration believed that they could remake the world by vengeance.

The sun has risen a little over Europe because, driven by desperate necessity, the Government of the United States has finally rid itself of the last vestiges of the Morgenthau Plan.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

AMINO ACIDS

We are reading with great interest the accounts of the wonderful results obtained by the use of amino acids among the starving peoples of Europe. Amino acids are what might be called the underlying or foundation food element of proteins—meats, eggs, milk products—which restore iron to the blood, strength to the digestive system. In fact they rebuild the worn, tired body in a fraction of the time where the whole food is given.

While most of us might naturally think that the knowledge of the benefits of amino acids came with World War II because so much has been written about it, it may come as a surprise to learn that preparations of amino acids have been used at the Mayo Clinic for the past 10 years, before World War II began.

In "Gastroenterology" (stomach and intestines) Drs. J. H. Remington, J. A. Borgen and J. S. Lundy say that for 10 years they have administered amino acids in the form of digests of various proteins, by injection into the veins or by mouth. They were used in several intestinal diseases, such as ulcerated colitis (ulcerated condition of lower bowel or colon), fistula or opening from the bowel to skin surface, and inflammation of the lining of the intestine.

Giving the amino acids by mouth has been shown to be the best method, as more of the food value was used by the body than when given by injections into the veins. Some patients can drink 250 cc (half a pint) of 20 percent solutions of amino acids such as paronamino or amigen several times a day. However, the taste is unpleasant and few can do this, so that more palatable products are being perfected. Too rapid injection of amino acids into a vein will cause nausea and vomiting. In order to prevent nausea and vomiting from injections into a vein, at least three hours should be taken to inject each quart.

From the results they have obtained, these physicians conclude that amino acids, administered by mouth or into a vein, are most beneficial from the standpoint of nutrition as a substitute for protein foods in their natural form when sufficient food cannot be eaten or absorbed.

The above results are in accord with those obtained by Allied physicians trying to feed the starving peoples of Europe.

WHAT IT MEANS

C.A.A. Safety Program

By JAMES J. STREIBER

Washington—The Civil Aeronautics Administration (C.A.A.) is responsible for assuring that new airplanes will be safe to fly.

How does the C.A.A. know that a new type of airliner deserves a certificate of airworthiness?

Simply by living with it almost from the day it is born until it goes off to fly schedules. Even then the C.A.A. maintains a continuous check to see that it is properly serviced and that it performs on the job as well as it did in final tests.

Here's how the C.A.A. goes about it:

When a manufacturer hits upon a design he believes can be sold to the airlines, he applies to the C.A.A. for a type certificate. The government's experts begin checking the idea right then, even though it is just a proposal on paper and will not be carrying passengers, mail or cargo for three or four years.

Many Tests Made

The C.A.A. people watch the design developed in detail. Structure specialists and engine and propeller men study the plans. Materials and assembly specialists watch the plane put together to see that the kind and quality of materials used and the method of assembly are what the designers intended.

As units of the plane are completed, they undergo individual tests to determine whether they meet specifications. Before the plane flies it has been approved structurally—it has a good physique, but how about its nervous system? Will it respond in the air?

That is when the going gets rough. The plane is hoisted by a crane and taken to the test field. Since the C.A.A. Day the C.A.A. has made many changes in airworthiness requirements. These have been concerned largely with a plane's ability to fly in one engine fails, with its protection from fire, its ability to stand rough weather, its protection from lightning, and its protection from collisions with birds and many significant technical items.

Performance Checked
But the toughest of all appears to be the accelerated service life test. May 15. That means that after the plane is generally approved it must go through a rigorous 150-hour flying demonstration under airline operating conditions—but with the varied experiences of a year's service crowded into a week or so.

The flying is the equivalent of 40,000 to 50,000 miles.

The Martin 2-0-2, first transport plane to face the new regulations, is now undergoing its accelerated service test.

Eight or 10 C.A.A. specialists and about a dozen company experts are on the flight. The C.A.A. people have been designated by a Type Certification Board established early in the project. This board makes the rules for the accelerated test to fit the particular plane. The test is designed to learn all that needs to be known about that one type.

The 2-0-2 is visiting 50 cities on a seven-day run. Each day a comprehensive inspection is made of all key parts to detect wear or malfunction.

An armload of data is collected relating to engine, propeller, fuselage, wings, controls, fuel system, oil system, hydraulic system, landing gear, electrical system, instruments, anti-icing system, oxygen supply and fire detection and control system.

Many Reports

Still another batch of reports is made after each takeoff and landing. These record the weather, the gross weight of the plane, the center of gravity, takeoff conditions, power settings, use of cabin heaters, operation of anti-icers (these must be turned on during every third flight), use of propeller feathering system, radio, electric gadgets and ventilating system.

During the flights, reports must be made on single engine performance, operation of landing gear and flaps, load put on generators, the plane's stall characteristics, its landing performance and its ability to circle the field on one engine after a simulated failure on fire.

The designers and builders have something to boast about when they get a certificate after that.

Before the war all new planes, regardless of size or use, had to meet a single standard of airworthiness. Now the C.A.A. has several categories, so that a small personal airplane need not meet the requirements of a giant airliner.

Political Argument Is Found in President's Midyear Economic Report and Document Is Thus Adulterated

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, July 23—Some sentences of a politically defensive nature inserted obviously to answer criticism or to defend action taken.

Incidentally, Mr. Truman's political henchmen may find that one paragraph in the report will boom some day. Thus, the President is represented as saying:

"Month by month there has been talk of recession; month by month recession has failed to materialize."

This gives the impression that those who have been warning about a correction of the economic situation were wrong. Later on in the same report, however, significant warnings are given indicating that perhaps the recession may come after all. Thus the report adds in a subsequent paragraph:

"We must remember that full employment at a high price level is being sustained at present by the reconversion demands of business and the backlog demands of consumers, by extensive savings and credit, and by an extraordinary excess of exports over imports. These are temporary props to our economic system. As they weaken, we shall need to make many basic readjustments to complete the transition to a permanently stable and maximum peacetime economy."

These are carefully chosen words to conceal the fears of a recession, in fact to camouflage the virtual certainty that there will be one. Economists should not mince words and mislead the country by optimism in one paragraph and protective phrases in the next saying the opposite.

Back in the summer of 1929 this correspondent recalls how certain influential persons were saying publicly that there would be no recession and how a courageous and non-political body such as the Federal Reserve Board told the American people, beginning in April 1929, the unvarnished facts. Something of the same courage is needed now but the White House apparently has got itself into such a fix by refusing to change the tax rates that when recession does come it may be too late to make the "basic readjustments" which the administration thinks it can apply overnight, presumably, to cushion our economic system against some severe jolts.

By UYTON CLOSE

When five-star General Douglas MacArthur said last week he was coming home as soon as a Japanese peace treaty could be arranged he put the Truman administration on warning not to delay that treaty.

For, whether or not MacArthur so intended it, the announcement had the effect of tossing his braided cap into the 1948 political ring. Unless and until he flatly refuses to be a candidate, he must be reckoned a major contender for the presidency.

Hence any unceremonious delay by Truman and his State Department in getting down to the Japanese peace table would give MacArthur men a chance to yell foul. And yell they would, especially since many of them persist in believing that Truman's New Deal production took advantage of his position to keep presidential threat MacArthur out of the country during election years.

"When the hero of Bataan said, 'I shall return' (to the States) he chose his time. In fact, his political strategy has been, regularly, no less astute than the military strategy for which his torians will remember him."

The statement followed by a few hours the announcement that the nation Allied control commission, which advised the general in reconstructing Japan, had expressed unanimous approval of his regime. This approval itself made the world sit up and take notice because the Soviets concurred. Though the Reds hate MacArthur with a white-hot hatred, they are forced to respect him. Who else among world figures can claim such a triumph?

But the point is, the announcement by the commission cleared the way for an immediate peace conference, and the potential president took the fullest advantage of the opportunity. Only boondoggling now could delay the peace more than a few months—even if the Soviets refuse to cooperate.

CLOSE UPS—2—It is commendable, no insignificant, that the State Department already has proposed a preliminary conference on the Japanese peace, setting the tentative date for August 19.

There was yet more strategy in the timing of MacArthur's announcement: He may be expected home by, next May, in time for the Wisconsin primary, the first primary of the year. It is just a coincidence that the old soldier chose as his home state, Wisconsin, where he had not lived since marching away to West Point nearly a half century ago? he has hosts of friends there, and the Wisconsin primary is more and more to be watched as a test of strength of presidential candidates. Willkie, for example, staked all his chips on it and refused to try for the Republican nomination after he lost in that primary.

There is something almost fatalistic in the persistent rise of MacArthur's star. The march of world events have combined with New Deal weakness and bungling to set the stage for a man of his strength and judgment. Republicans and conservative Democrats alike are sick of New Deal squealdering, of socialism, of double talk and double dealing, of Kelly and Pennington politics in the White House, of Communist agents in the government (and Communist spies in our military). They are sick of appeasement of Moscow and appeasement of tough talking union strong men, and they are becoming alarmed at the increasing boldness of a government-protected fifth column which attempts to intimidate a Republican Senator by picketing his son's wedding, put out smears of "anti-semitism" which doubtless helped work up a fanatic to shoot at another Republican Senator, kills a railroad president, makes it necessary for the Congressional author of corrective labor legislation to have a police escort in our nation's capital.

Of all this stinking mess, MacArthur would make short work, as the voters well know.

If we are in for a Communist-inspired general strike at some critical moment, who else would so fearlessly stand up to the giants of Unions and top their triumphs together without regard to political fortunes?

The one man feared by the Soviets would be our best guarantee of peace; and if war must come, the man of a hundred military specialties, whose military triumphs should be a dependable leader. (Copyright 1947 by John F. Dille Co.)

American's Card Authority

Written for NEA Service

Alexander Weiss of New York, this year's winner of the national masters individual title, gave me today's hand. The point in the hand is this: When declarer is in dummy with the ace of spades, should he take the heart finesse or the club finesse? Of course, looking at all of the cards, you will say that the club finesse is the correct play. And it is—but why?

Weiss' reasoning is that if the king of clubs is in the East hand, the club finesse is the correct play

whether East's holding is the king and one, the king three times, four times, or even eight times. But the heart finesse will accomplish

no good unless declarer happens to find East with only the king and one or the king and two hearts. In this hand East has four hearts, so the heart finesse is of no value

even though it works.

If the queen of hearts is led from dummy, East covers with the king—and declarer cannot avoid losing a trick in every suit.

This is a good illustration of proper "percentage" play. Although it is a fifty-fifty guess as to the location of the two kings, the club finesse will gain whenever

East has the king, regardless of the number of clubs East holds (unless East has nine clubs to the king, a virtually impossible situation). On the other hand, the possibilities of winning with the heart finesse are limited.

C.I.O. Union Says Monopoly to Blame For Meat Prices

Packhouse Workers Ask Government Investigate Situation; Callous Views Cited

Chicago, July 23 (AP)—The C.I.O. United Packinghouse Workers Union, urging a government investigation in connection with the prices of meat, blames high meat prices on "monopoly control of meat exercised by the large packers."

Ralph Helstein, union president, said that in June the packers' beef markup was 43 per cent higher than the increased prices to farmers and 19 per cent more than retail prices, as compared with a year ago during price controls and government subsidies.

In a statement he said: "This is a clear demonstration that the monopoly control of meat exercised by the large packers is callously indifferent to the needs of the great number of American lower and moderate income groups who are compelled to pay these high prices or else do without meat for their families."

"A thorough investigation of the control of our national meat supply by a few packing companies and their banks is the proper function of our government."

The American Meat Institute, packer spokesman, charged the union with making an "entirely misleading" statement, and said "it ignores facts and juggles figures."

Youth Tells How He Tried to Aid Injured Father

Harrisburg, Pa., July 23 (AP)—A youth who survived a mountain top plane crash told today of crawling on his hands and knees for more than two miles through dense rain-soaked underbrush in a futile effort to get aid to his injured father before he died.

Twenty-year-old A. N. Meek, Jr., of Youngstown, Pa., is recovering from the harrowing effects of his journey down a mountain side at nearby Wertzville. He suffered a fractured thigh, a badly bruised knee and other injuries.

Young Meek, and his 50-year-old father, were in a private plane, en route from Ocean City, Md., to Johnstown on Monday when the plane hit a mountain top during a heavy rainstorm.

The youth said the plane ploughed ed into a clump of trees, hurling his father out of the craft.

"I looked around and Dad wasn't beside me," said young Meek.

"After a few minutes I heard Dad moaning and managed to get myself free (his safety belt caught in some branches) and crawl about 20 feet to where he was lying," he added.

"His right eye was closed and his left leg was so badly broken that it seemed to be just hanging by the skin," he explained.

Then the youth began the long, tortuous journey down the mountain. He said he first began following a power line, but found the going too rocky, and at last reached a road on the side of the mountain.

There the youth apparently passed out shortly after reaching the road and remained all night. Finally coming to yesterday he continued the journey to the home of Mrs. Clarence Beistline, who summoned medical aid and called the state police.

Cable Strike Ends With Pay Boost Of 10 Cents Hourly

New York, July 23 (AP)—Company and union officials announced today that a strike of 2,000 cables employees of subsidiaries of the International Telephone and Telegraph Company, called last midnight, was ended two and one-half hours later on the basis of a 10 cents per hour across-the-board wage increase.

The settlement was announced first by Forrest L. Henderson, executive vice president of the American Cable and Radio System, holding company for the firms involved. A few minutes later he joined with Joseph P. Selly, president of the American Communications Association (C.A.A.), and Kenneth Stillman, chairman of the executive committee of the All America Cable Employees Association (independent) in issuing the following statement:

"Through the good offices of Mr. Edgar L. Warren, director of the U. S. Conciliation Service, in Washington, a settlement was effected at 2:30 a. m. July 23 in a wage dispute which has threatened to disrupt one-third of this country's foreign radio and cable facilities.

"The settlement reached provided for an across-the-board increase of 10 cents per hour for all employees in the bargaining units effective June 1, 1947."

No additional details of the settlement were made public, but Henderson said that "full operations will be resumed as soon as possible."

Settlers of New Zealand were Scotch, English, Irish, Dane, Norwegian, Swedish, and a few French, German, and American.

New Zealand exports more cheese than any other country in the world, and almost as much butter as Denmark.

Good Taste Today

By Emily Post

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

SHOWERS AND SHOWERS!

A reader says: "Coming here as a stranger several years ago, I think it still would be unwise to seem to set myself up as an authority on matters of good taste. But I can't help wishing you would emphasize again that it is bad taste for nearest relatives to give showers for brides-to-be. It seems to be the general practice of this community."

If by "relatives" you mean the bride's grandmother, mother or sisters, you are quite right in thinking that this is in very bad taste. But relations-in-law-to-be are considered quite proper because their motive is a gesture of special welcome to a new member of their family.

An Odd Usher

Dear Mrs. Post: I am being married in a chapel and am having only a maid of honor, no bridesmaids. My fiancé is having a best man but in addition would like to have three very special friends as ushers. The only guests will be our immediate families, in all about 25 or 30. Won't the ushers seem curious for the type of wedding and number of guests?

Answer: Not at all. The only problem is the third usher who must walk alone unless the chapel is so small and the aisle so narrow that three in single file would seem proper. Otherwise, the procession would best be: One usher alone, then two ushers, then the maid of honor alone and then you and your father. On no account permit the odd usher to walk with the maid of honor as that would give the appearance of a double wedding.

Age of Wedding Attendants

Dear Mrs. Post: Is there any rule for the age requirement for the maid of honor and the best man?

Answer: The requirement between the maid of honor and the bride is that the difference in their ages should not be very great. There is none between the best man and the bridegroom who often chooses his own father.

Do you know the proper dress for a daytime wedding reception? Mrs. Post's leaflet, "What to Wear at Wedding Receptions," E-6, tells the correct dress for men and women. To obtain a copy, send 5 cents in coin and a stamped self-addressed envelope to her, care of The Kingston Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

Sing for a Bride

Natives of eastern Nepal, Asia, have the unique custom of singing for a wife. The prospective bride is led before the chief and the young Limbu tribesman bursts in song. If his repertoire pleases, the maiden is his.

Java and adjacent Madocera contain nearly 50,000,000 people.

Lions Hear Talk By H. P. Eighmey on Model Railroading

Members of the Kingston Lions Club, assembled at the Governor Clinton yesterday afternoon for their regular weekly luncheon meeting, were given a highly educational and interesting talk by Henry P. Eighmey, founder and secretary-treasurer of the Kingston Model Railroad Club, and one of the directors of the National Model Railroad Association.

Following his talk, a color film depicting the model railroads and scenic railroad backgrounds at the Kingston Club was shown to the members by Henry Page, president of the local club.

Eighmey mentioned that model railroading originated in England about 30 years ago, and had its foundations in the United States approximately 24 years ago when the New York Society of Model Engineers was organized.

The hobby spread rapidly, Eighmey continued, and soon the National Model Railroad Association was formed. A monthly publication, called "The Bulletin," edited by Eighmey and printed at the plant of The Freeman Publishing Company, acquaints all N.M.R.A. members with doings of model railroaders the world over.

Creative Work

The hobby of model railroading offers everything for one's creative effort, Eighmey explained. It not only embraces the building of miniature engines and railroad cars to scale, but also includes electrical engineering, plastering, architecture, photography and a host of other experimental projects. In such a hobby, he added, one's creative effort does not end with the completion of the construction of a small train, but materializes into the actual performance of the finished product. "You work on something, and then sit back and enjoy its operation," he said.

Scenery plays an important part in model railroading, he said, in that colorful scenic backgrounds are invariably used to set off the models in their actual operation.

Eighmey said that the interlocking and signaling system now in use at the Grand Central Terminal in New York was devised from a model originally built by a member of the New York Society of Model Engineers.

Not Childish Pastime

This was mentioned to clarify any misconceptions to the effect that model railroading is a childish pastime. One of the primary reasons why model railroading has not reached greater proportions throughout this country, Eighmey said, arises from the fact that so many people think that tinkering with trains is a child's function. On the contrary, he emphasized, the variety of man's capabilities that is brought into play in model railroading belies the assumptions that the hobby is restricted to children.

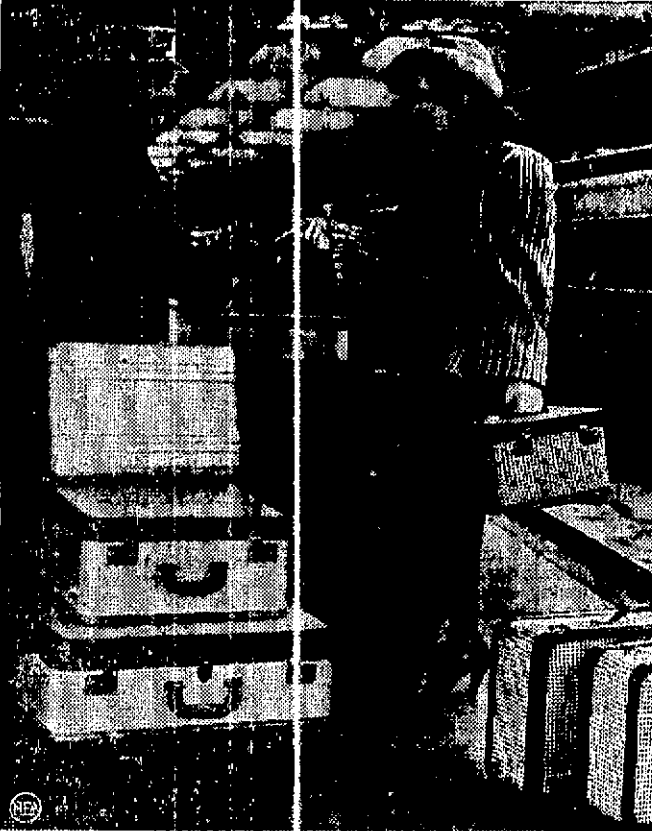

Eighmey said that the Kingston Club, which is celebrating its 10th anniversary on September 18, this year, making it one of the oldest clubs in existence in America, consists of 23 members at the present, all of whom are selected on the basis of their cooperation and initiative for the promotion of better model railroading.

The clubhouse of the Kingston group was leased to the local members by the New York Central Railroad, and an addition being built to the building at the present. Eighmey praised the splendid cooperation of the New York Central officials in supplying the local club with blueprints from which model trains and cars are made to scale, and in donating movie films for the entertainment and education of all members.

Light, Bright Luggage Is Ready for Traveler

New plastic coated fabric luggage is lightweight, bright colored. Leather-bound, cushioned edges offer extra protection. Aluminum case on top of redcap's rack is airtight and dustproof.

By KAY SHERWOOD

NEA Staff Writer

New luggage is ready for peace-time travel.

Thanks to streamlined styling and new manufacturing techniques, present-day luggage is lighter, brighter, and roomier than prewar models.

For the first time since before the war, travelers can fill every luggage need from tiny cosmetic cases to 18-hanger wardrobe trunks. Many are assembled in matched sets.

Molded plywood frames reinforced at corners, instead of steel-rib frames, lighten the traveler's load without sacrificing luggage strength. Fine leather, welcomed back by veteran globetrotters, gets stiff competition from new materials. Plastic coated fabrics in bold checks and gay plaids are not only eye-catching but also able to withstand the rough handling and strain of a journey.

Aluminum makes its debut in sleekly styled cases that are airtight and dustproof.

It will be held from October 18 to 26, and all proceeds taken in from admission will be used for additional building and equipment.

To Employ Italians

Rome, (UP)—Five thousand Italians whose own country no longer provides them jobs are to work in Czechoslovakia. They go under an Italo-Czech treaty—one of several such agreements Italy has made with other countries to employ abroad her labor surplus. Before leaving, the Italians must pass two physical examinations one before a Czech physician at a northern Italy assembly point. In Czechoslovakia, they are assured the same working and living conditions as Czech laborers.

Queens Grand Jury Studies Bookies Payments to Police

New York, July 23 (UP)—Queens County Assistant District Attorney J. Irwin Shapiro said today a grand jury was conducting a thorough investigation of charges that bookmakers paid protection money to policemen.

Witnesses will return to testify today before the grand jury, Shapiro said, adding:

"A thorough investigation will be made. When it is concluded it will be apparent that we have done all that could be done to discover if there is any corruption in the police department in Queens." Police Commissioner Arthur W. Wallender declined to comment on the investigation. He said in response to questions that he planned no changes in personnel in Queens. Declaring he had given special orders to division commanders to clamp down on gamblers, he said: "If they fall, that's where I step in."

The grand jury yesterday heard testimony from Emetia Polizio, known as Joe Pledge, an ex-convict and bookmaker, and from six other witnesses, including Assistant Chief Inspector John J. Martin and Deputy Chief Inspector Edward C. Moran, Shapiro said.

Old-Time Recipe Still Toothsome

By GAYNOR MADDOX

NEA Staff Writer

A CROCK of apple butter was a standby with Grandma. Today we use glass jars instead but the apple butter still has its old-fashioned taste appeal.

Apple Butter

(Makes 6 pints)

Ten pounds cooking apples, 3 cups water, 4 cups sweet cider, 8 cups sugar, 1 1/2 teaspoons ground cloves, 3 teaspoons cinnamon, 1 1/2 teaspoons nutmeg, 1 1/2 teaspoons allspice.

Wash and core apples. Cook in water until soft and then put through sieve. Boil cider down to 2 cups. Combine cider, apples sugar and spices. Place in preserving kettle and cook slowly until of desired consistency. Stir about three or four times. Pour hot apple butter into hot sterilized jars and adjust lids. Process 10 minutes in boiling water bath.

Here's a new recipe for a remarkably good fruit combination:

Cherry and Raspberry Jam

(Using Sour Cherries)

(Makes about 8 six-ounce glasses)

Three and one-half cups prepared fruit, 1/4 cups sugar, 1 box powdered fruit pectin.

To prepare the fruit: Stem and pit about 1 pound fully ripe sour cherries and chop fine. Crush thoroughly about 1 quart fully ripe red raspberries. Combine fruits and measure 3 1/2 cups into a large saucepan.

To make the jam: Measure sugar and set aside. Place saucepan holding fruit over high heat. Add powdered fruit pectin and stir until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once stir in sugar. Bring to a full rolling boil and Boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat, skim, ladle quickly into glasses. Paraffin at once.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Canned grapefruit juice, cornflakes, French toast, syrup, apple butter or honey, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Fish chowder, pilot biscuit, sliced tomatoes and sweet onions, fresh peach cake, iced tea, milk.

DINNER: Frankfurters, sauerkraut, mashed potatoes, broiled tomato halves with chopped green pepper and onion, stale cake moistened with fruit juice or sherry, dotted with cherry and raspberry jam, cream, coffee, milk.

Royal Wedding to Be Big Public Ceremony

London, July 23 (UP)—The government let it be known today that Princess Elizabeth and Lieut. Philip Mountbatten will be married in a big public ceremony after all.

Splicing speculation that the wedding would have to be a small, semi-private affair because of the nation's poverty, a high government source said it was now definitely known that the ceremony would be in Westminster Abbey and "certainly won't be on austerity lines."

The source added that the royal family and the government now were "more strongly than ever" in favor of October as the wedding time.

The Privy Council will meet July 31 to give formal assent to the marriage, it was announced today.

Tea consumption in the United States is three-quarters of a pound per capita per year.

C.I.O. Leader Indicted For Congressional Perjury

Washington, July 23 (AP)—A federal grand jury today indicted Harold Roland Christoffel, Milwaukee C.I.O. leader, on charges that he committed perjury in telling a congressional committee that he was not a member of the Communist Party.

Christoffel testified before the House Labor Committee last March 1. He was president of the United Auto Workers Local No. 248 at a time when Allis-Chalmers plants in the Milwaukee area were shut down by a protracted strike.

The labor committee was investigating the causes of labor disputes, work stoppages and strikes with particular reference to any influence of subversive groups.

The indictment said that Christoffel, under oath, "categorically denied" any affiliation with Communists or the Communist Party. Nevertheless, the grand jury report said, he "was then a member of the Communist Party and had been such member for several years thereto and had worked with the Communist Party and with the Communist Political Association."

McLeod's Role As Joan Praised; Is at Playhouse

Woodstock, July 23—One of the most magnificent performances ever seen on a Woodstock stage and as fine as could be expected of Broadway, was given last night by Marshall McLeod at the Woodstock Playhouse in the title role of the current presentation, Joan of Lorraine.

The role played by Miss McLeod is a most difficult one upon which can depend the success or failure of the entire production. Her appreciation of the character she portrayed was exemplified by her "sincerity throughout," and demonstrated not only the ability of a skilled actress but a great artist as well.

Michael Sivvy who has been seen in other productions at the Playhouse, this season, gave his best performance last night as Les West (The Dolphin).

As Jimmy Masters, the director and the inquisitor, Don McHenry gave an excellent performance.

The righteousness of the archbishop was capably depicted by Roland Hogue.

For the first time this season, the entire Playhouse company had an opportunity to display their talents in the supporting roles and included Alvin Loren, Charmion King, Frances Bavier, Jack Howlett, Cort Steen, Leo Herbert, Lee Haring, Henry Kaplan, Louis Frederick, Araby Lockhart, Eileen Goldberg, Don Davis, Robert Gill, Sam Telford and Murray Davis.

Maxwell Anderson's Joan of Lorraine is a thought producing play wherein the qualities of faith and belief are stressed. It is unusual in that the story of the maid from Lorraine is unfolded through a play rehearsal.

Due to the almost complete absence of stage setting, the lighting assumed great importance. Gaylord Hawkins' handling of this element was notable.—P.H.

Republican Caucus To Be Held Aug. 6; 2 Contests Likely

Woodstock, July 23—The Woodstock township Republican caucus will be held in the town hall on Wednesday, August 6, at 10 p. m.

Those in office who will continue to run for nomination at the caucus are Kenneth L. Wilson, town supervisor, Grant Elwyn, town clerk; Roland Schlitts of Wittenberg, councilman; George Braendly, Zena, Justice of the peace; Ben DeGraff, superintendent of highways; Harry Kutzschbach, Bensville and Leslie Elwyn, Woodstock, assessors. It is not known at this time whether William H. Wilber, Woodstock, will run for the job he now holds as assessor.

It is reported that Paul Salzfass, Zena, will run against George Braendly for justice of the peace.

Stewart Jones, Woodstock, has made it known that he intends to run against Ben DeGraff for superintendent of highways. Mr. Jones admits that he is beginning his second 75 years, 73 of which he has lived in Woodstock. He feels he is qualified for the job of superintendent of highways having had early training for this work during the ten years, 1904-14, his father held the office.

Mr. Jones took office as highway superintendent in 1924 and for six years continued in that capacity. Also, he built county roads for five years. Having seen Woodstock grow from the time of scattered houses and dirt roads to what it is today, he remarked that he knows every foot of road in this township and is certain he could do a good job, if nominated and elected to the office. Mr. Jones lives in the village with his two daughters, Mildred and Helen. Jones, both of whom are associated with the New York Telephone Company in their Woodstock office. Mildred Jones is the chief operator.

As far as is now known the Democratic caucus for the township of Woodstock will be held in the Town Hall on Thursday evening, August 7. No information has been made available regarding the proposed nominations.

Williams Musicians To Give Concert

Woodstock, July 23—An open air concert will be given on Tuesday evening, July 29th, at 7 o'clock by the Williams Camp band, under the auspices of the Dutch Reformed Church.

These students, who are considered far above average in musical ability and talent, come from all over the United States for the exceptionally fine and intensive music courses given during the summer months at Williams Camp.

Their work is particularly well known throughout Ulster county. Many prominent musicians in Woodstock have taught at the camp, including Engelbert Roentgen, Pierre Henrotte and Mildred Dilling.

In case of rain the concert will be held the first clear evening.

If registration warrants, the workers in leather and metal, taught by Martin and Jo Stefanson, may have an evening class. Artists and craftsmen in this group can learn to make some of their own tools.

The workshop schedule includes instruction in design, weaving, pottery, jewelry, leather, metal, bookbinding, wood carving, as well as the Children's Workshop.

The classes will be limited and prompt registration is urged.

Bergan Restrains Anthony Rich

Local Man Is Prohibited From Approaching Morgan Customers

Anthony J. Rich of Kingston is restrained from "interfering" with the business of his former employer, Morgan Linen Company, in the Kingston area, under a temporary injunction issued Tuesday by Supreme Court Justice Francis Bergan at Albany.

Rich, now employed by another linen firm, was soliciting Morgan customers. The court ruled, however, that he cannot solicit customers of Morgan Linen Company within a 25 mile radius of the Morgan linen office in Kingston nor use a customers' list.

Dauchy, of the Dutchess County Club, Poughkeepsie, survived the first round of match play, with a 2 and 1 victory over Mrs. Henry March, of New York.

Around the Village

Woodstock, July 23—State Trooper Dunn, formerly attached to the Lake Katrine barracks before his transfer to Ferndale, is now in Phenicia where he will patrol the roads from Woodstock to Margaretville.

They were Tony McClellan, Sugie Bared, Frank Becker, Perry Russell, Paul and Carl Van Wageningen, Joan and Diane Mower, Lee Carey, Billy Heckerth, Nancy Wilson, Herbert Waterous, Teddy Wright, Joseph Hilton and Peter Cooper. Many games were played and refreshments served.

Mrs. Jerry Jeronimek's mother and sister, Mrs. Virginia Thomas and the Misses Thelma and Winifred Thomas, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jeronimek. Mr. Jeronimek will go to Washington later this week to complete murals which he started at the French Restaurant in the spring.

The Woodstock Artists Association will present its second in a series of Round Table Discussions on Wednesday evening, July 23, at 8:30 in the Woodstock Art Gallery. Arnold Blanch will be the moderator and the subject will be 300,000 Art Students.

Water Colors by Peggy Maguire, Woodstock, will be exhibited at the Walter Goltz Studio on Main street, from 2 until 5 each afternoon from July 28 to August 10. A reception and preview exhibition will be given for invited guests on Sunday afternoon, July 27, from 2 until 6 o'clock.

The Woodstock Library will conduct a Children's Story Hour each Saturday morning at 11 o'clock, during the summer months. Gloria Mauser, assistant librarian, will be in charge of the Story Hour to which children between the ages of six and eight are invited.

HEARING RESTORED BY NEW METHOD

Deaf since childhood. Now attends movies, church and takes part in local activities.

July 15, 1947

Mr. M. M. Franklin, Director
Institute for Better Hearing
1037 Main Street
Peekskill, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Franklin:

It is over three months now since Dr. Paul Barham sent you to me in the expectation that you could do something for my hearing. Since cannot express my thanks for the new life you have opened up for me. Frankly after trying to use some of the well-advised hearing aids, I had given up ever hoping to hear again. Your splendid service and understanding soon dispelled my skepticism and in my surprise I was really hearing all the things I had dreamed about. Being deaf since childhood, never hearing one's voice, wanting to take part in normal activities, in some way, wanted to explain. I know now what you mean, being restored to normalcy.

I have gained weight and certainly feel a lot better as my nerves have settled down and I feel fully relaxed instead of the tension I had learned to feel as part of my daily existence. It may surprise you to know that I take part in local activities, attend the showers of girl friends, use the insurance at work, talk with the girls during lunch hour, and am learning new words daily. Yes, I can even hear a whisper and the clock tick!

Neither says my voice, since using your hearing device, has improved greatly. Of course, never hearing one's voice, it was rather hard to govern my way of speaking. However, now I know the meaning of good diction and mother is a grand teacher.

Mr. Franklin, you may tell other folks about my newly found happiness. I do wish you continued success with your new method for aiding those who are hard of hearing and need help.

Gratefully,
FLORAMAE MAC DONALD

Morgan's Restaurant Overwhelms Hofbrau in City League, 12-3

Barnes Routed in 9-Run First Inning Rally; Swarouth Wins

Hofbrau's pennant dreams in the City Baseball League were shattered by a tremendous nine-run, first-inning blast unleashed by the irrepressible Morgan Restaurant club yesterday at the Athletic Field.

While one of the largest crowds of the season looked on stunned, Manager Bud Zoller's swimmers tore into Artie Barnes, Hofbrau ace, early and often and were aided by an unbelievable collapse of the Hofbrau defense.

When the commotion had ceased, Morgan's led 9-0 and from there on out it was an easy matter for veteran Bud Swarouth to coast to a 12-3 triumph.

In Second Place

The victory was Morgan's fifth in six starts and vaulted them into second place position for Friday's crucial battle against Jones Dairy. The loss was Hofbrau's second of the season and, barring a minor miracle, removed Johnny Batingh from the contention in the regular season.

Morgan's converted three hits into nine runs in the first frame. The losers committed five errors in that hectic frame and the blow with most authority was Allan Vogt's rousing triple to right field.

Hofbrau peeked back futilely in the first and second frames. Jimmy Secret's double and Charlie Francello's double scored a marker in the first. In the second, Bill Kaufman doubled and Uhl singled him in.

Four Get Two Hits

Vogt, Brinkman, Ball and Swarouth collected two hits apiece for Morgan's. Swarouth, making one of his infrequent starts, permitted seven hits, Charlie Francello, veteran third sacker, collected two but these nullified by three costly errors in the field.

Cheer Emile, like Hofbrau praying for a miracle to stop Jones Dairy, tangles with Boulevard Gulf in tonight's feature. "Fink" McElrath will go against Big Al Gruner.

From White Towers:

The vagaries of fate are such that while Ernest C. "Duke" Landgraf, president of the North Atlantic League luxuriates in the lush surroundings of his ivory tower in Allentown, Pa., George "Sugar" Scherger, late manager of the Kingston Dodgers, is starting to carve a new baseball home for himself in the red clay hills of North Carolina.

Messrs. Scherger and Landgraf would seem to be farthest apart than ever.

This is not intended as a sermonette to extol George Scherger, whose record as a field leader and inspirational player and manager spoke for itself. But we do feel that the tremendous fine and unprecedented suspension imposed on Scherger by Landgraf was a rank injustice, an arbitrary decision that will smelt to the high heavens until Mr. Landgraf produces testimony and records to justify his action.

The loss of Scherger is a bad blow to the pennant hopes of the Dodgers. It came at a time when the club was in the throes of a dismal batting slump, the Peleahigh Highlanders, receiving blood plasma almost daily from their brother, Poughkeepsie Giants, were breathing hot on their necks and every sign pointed to a bitter fight for the 1947 pennant.

Best in His Class:

In all fairness to Bobby Newhard, who takes over the second base post, he is not a "Sugar" Scherger. Maybe George Pratt can keep Dodger morale at the absolute peak required in the ding dong stretch race that is bound to develop in August. Second basemen and inspirational leaders like Scherger aren't shaken from trees.

We are convinced that Branch Rickey, Jr., the Dodger minor league major domo, must have lost some pretty sleep before he decided to pull Scherger out of Kingston to protect his future as a ball player and manager.

It was a plausible decision and it required great courage, since Mr. Rickey would rather win the North Atlantic League pennant than any other in the vast, farflung minor league chain operated by the Brooks. It was an honest, sensible, decision because Rickey knew that George could no longer operate unbridled in the mouth of a legitimate and he risked the penalty of a lifetime suspension. That's exactly what Landgraf had threatened him with, if he "continued to abuse umpires."

Has Great Future

Rickey spotted the managerial potentialities in Scherger a long time ago. They might have ended once and for all right here in Kingston. As things now stand, George has a chance to get a fresh start and begin that climb toward the top in the Dodger chain. We predict that he will make it, too, in the not too distant future.

Meanwhile, we're anxious, and so is every baseball fan in the city, to see if President Landgraf yields to repeated Dodge requests to release the transcript of Umpire Jess Mann's testimony that literally handed the Kingston manager. Parts of it, no doubt, are unprintable, but the fans and the Dodgers are entitled to know the real story. Until such time as Landgraf furnishes that information, the fans will rightfully feel that George Scherger was the victim of a malicious, premeditated, arbitrary injustice.

Facts Wanted, Not Barbs

Landgraf's crack in the official N.A.L. bulletin that "Scherger was lucky he didn't get more," certainly was not consistent with the lofty position the venerable gentleman holds, and furnished only a modicum of enlightenment.

What everybody wants to know is just what did Scherger say to Umpire Jess Mann, on that memorable night in Stroudsburg? What transpired in that hallowed umpire's dressing room (shared by Manager Buck Farmer of Stroudsburg)? The "no" will never be forgotten until the answer to these $50 questions have been supplied and Mr. Landgraf is the only person who knows them.

The Allentown Morning Call, a few days after the incident, quoted Scherger as telling Umpire Mann he would give him "plenty of business." There was no elaboration. Scherger had remained tight lipped and silent on the whole matter. He could never be inveigled into a discussion of the cause celebre.

Since, we are told, the indispensable man does not exist, the chances are that "Sugar" Scherger will continue to be a success, "Duke" Landgraf can luxuriate in his white tower, and the Dodgers will win the pennant.

In the meantime, Mr. President, how about the real low-down on why you thrust the harl-kiri knife into Scherger's hands?

'Pop' Petersen Hits 652 Series In Summer Loop

Larry "Pop" Petersen recovered a bit of his old time bowling magic in the Summer Classic this week, pounding out a brilliant 652 to pace the hotshot keggers in a round of heavy firing.

The veteran Petersen started with 198 and added counts of 230 and 224 for individual high series honors. His heavy pinning enabled the C. & C. Market to sweep the set against Hotl Uster. Johnny "Sore Arm" Ferraro clicked for 187-229-206 in the anchor slot.

Broskie Shoots 643

Broskie, the man without a first name, knocked off 643, with 202-216-225 to pace IVKNY to a 2-1 decision over the Hofbrau. Frank "Tarzan" Spada's 556 led the losers.

Jones Dairy copped the odd set from Cuneos, with "Red" Spaulding shooting 557 and A. Jones 232-554. Charlie Manfro was top man for Cuneo's with 542.

Larry Weisaupt shot a 256 single and 632 triple, as Mt. Marion Inn swept three from Village Rest. Dick Howard furnished a 228 for the winners. High series for Village Rest was Burt Burr's 200-552.

Cleveland Kayo Ace to Battle Johnny Stevens

Paul Simpson, Cleveland, O., light-heavyweight will make a bid for his fourth local knock-out victory, Wednesday night, July 30, in a match with one of New York city's best amateur pugilists, Johnny Stevens.

Stevens, who went to the finals in the national tournament, is expected to give Simpson his toughest competition here in the main bout on the B'nai B'rith card at the municipal auditorium.

Fans will notice that the 30th falls on Wednesday, although Thursday is Kingston's regular boxing night. Dr. Saul Goldfarb, the organization's boxing chairman, moved his ring show up a day so as not to interfere with the Kingston Dodgers-Stroudsburg game at the stadium.

Wilkerson Scheduled

Other bouts announced for the 30th are: Chuck Wilkerson, Cleveland, 118 pounds, vs. Johnny Carr, New York city.

Joe Ausanio, Kingston, 160, vs. Georgie Kaplan of Brooklyn.

The rest of the program will be made public shortly, said Ben M. Becker, director of bouts for B'nai B'rith.

In Becker's opinion the main bout looks like one of the most promising, with a lot of good punching on display when Simpson and Stevens start tossing leather.

Has Lethal Wallop

Simpson, who received a big ovation as a guest at the last boxing show here, has a string of three straight knockouts to his credit over Chick Camotta, Jimmy Carr and Howard "Sugar" Kane.

"Paul is one of the hardest punchers in the country," opined Becker, "and it takes a good man to stay with him."

"I think I have that opponent."

In Johnny Stevens," he added, "because the New Yorker has met and defeated the best amateurs in match competition, aside from going to the finals in the national tournament."

Stevens Highly Rated

Stevens is under the direction of Sammy Aaronson, who handles more amateur and professional boxers than any other boxing manager, Becker advised.

Simpson's future is in the hands of Johnny Wood, former stablemate of the celebrated Kid Chocolate, who has done a good job with him so far.

Wilkerson, stablemate of the light-heavy sensation, will be remembered as the clever little fighting machine that made Boston's clever Ernie Martineau look sick, and who handed Georgie "Babyface" Decker a decisive losing May 29.

His next opponent, Johnny Carr, is rated as the top man in his class around the metropolitan district, and this match is expected to vie with the Simpson-Stevens bout for the spotlight.

Washington, July 23 (AP)—Officials looked today to a government report boosting corn crops to 158,000,000 bushels in halting the rising trend in farm and food prices.

President Truman, in Monday's economic report Monday, said the short crop appeared to be among the steepest in the way of price adjustments.

In a special crop survey published yesterday, the Agriculture Department forecast the 1947 crop of corn at 277,000,000 bushels, based on conditions prevailing July 15.

The department's July forecast was for 2,612,000,000 which is about 37,000,000 above last year's record of 3,240,000,000.

The new forecast is about 80,000,000 bushels more than needed for maintaining stock, dairy and poultry in present high level. Continued good weather could bring the still higher.

Officials said the new estimate reduces the possibility of livestock feed shortage and will be followed by some easing of pressure on grain and food prices.

Silver-Haired Man Gets His Drive

Frederick, Md., July 23 (AP)—An automobile with District of Columbia tags pulled to the curb at night and a silver-haired man got out to hail newspaper reporter William T. Delaplaine.

"I've been lost in this hour," the man said, asking directions to the home of his friend, Col. Harris Alphone.

With pleasure, general Delaplaine, recognizing the motorist as Secretary of Marshall.

After setting him on the road, the publisher remarked: "You have a big job on your hands, general."

"If I don't do any better than driving the streets of Frederick, I won't do so well," the secretary of state with a he drove away.

Washington, July 23.—Officials looked today to a government boosting crop prospects 158,000,000 bushels in halting the rising trend in farm and food prices.

President Truman, in his first economic report Monday last, said short crops appeared to be among the outstanding in the way of price adjustments.

In a special crop survey published yesterday, the Agriculture Department forecast the yield of grain at 2,776 millions, based on conditions prevailing July 15.

The department's July cast was for 2,612,000,000 which is about 57,000,000 average. Last year's record totaled 2,327,000,000.

The new forecast is almost identical with estimates made recently for maintaining stock, dairy and poultry output at present high level, continued good weather could make the gap still more.

Officials said the new estimate reduces the possibility of inflation by relieving some easing pressure on grain and livestock prices.

Washington, July 23
cials looked today to a governor boosting corn croppects 158,000,000 bushels in halting the rising trend farm and food prices.

President Truman, in a year economic report Monday, said that corn crop appeared to be among the standing in the way of price adjustments.

In a special crop survey published yesterday, the Agricultural Department forecast the plans of U. S. crop coun-bushels, based on conditions valuing July 15.

The department's July cast was for 2,612,000,000 which is about 57,000,000 average. Last year's record totalled 2,387,000,000.

The new forecast is about 80,000,000 bushels
nated needs for maintain-stock, dairy and poultry
at present high levetuned good weather could the gap still more.

Officials say the new imate reduces the possibillivestock feed shortage and be followed by some easing pressure on grain and prices.

Girl, 14, Declares She Was Plagued With Desire to Kill

Honor Student Is Held in Jack Handle Slaying of Playmate, 10, in California

Sacramento, Calif., July 23 (AP)—A 14-year-old girl honor student, who said she was plagued for a year by "the extreme desire to kill someone," was held in the Sacramento county jail today for the slaying of 10-year-old Mary Lou Roman at a home for foster children.

Intention to file a first degree murder charge today against Louise Gomez was announced by the district attorney's office after the superintendent of a hospital for mental cases pronounced the girl "an extremely dangerous individual."

Dr. Rudolph Toller, head of Stockton State Hospital, said, however, that Louise was not insane.

Dr. Toller quoted her as saying during lengthy questioning: "For one year I have had the extreme desire to kill someone. I had thought of killing several people, I thought of killing my mother, my father, and the children in the family. I lacked the courage."

Louise, who made straight A's in school and also is a tap dancer and pianist, was arrested after the body of Mary Lou was found Monday in the yard of the foster home.

Deputy District Attorney Albert H. Mundt said Louise admitted that, while sitting with Mary Lou on the back porch of the house, she choked the girl, struck her with the jack handle, then crushed her skull with a sledge hammer.

Two Teen-Agers Die For Killing Man

Woodville, Miss., July 23 (AP)—Two teenage Negroes convicted of slaying a white man went to their death early today in Mississippi's portable electric chair.

The first to die was 15-year-old James Lewis. The other was Charles Trudell, 16. Each went to his death calmly, reciting a prayer.

The two youths were convicted in February, 1946, for the pistol slaying of Harry McKee, a Mississippi lumber man from whom they took $64.

As each youth was seated in the electric chair, he repeated after a Catholic priest the words: "O my God, I am utterly sorry for having offended Thee."

A few hours before they died, the young Negroes said they had found solace in religion and advised others to "join the church as soon as they could."

The boys had a whole fried chicken apiece for lunch yesterday, a watermelon during the afternoon, and more chicken for dinner last night.

Will Sell Mansion

Glen Cove, N. Y., July 23 (AP)—Nassau county health and fire authorities have approved the sale of Poplar Hill, the Frederic E. Pratt mansion, to the Sister Kenny Foundation for use as a convalescent home for those recovering from infantile paralysis. The 35-acre estate adjoins that of the George D. Pratt estate, purchased last year by the Soviet government as a summer residence for high Soviet officials in this country.

ELLENVILLE

Ellenville, July 22—Walter E. Coleman, a science teacher at the Ellenville High School, who was not given a renewal of contract for the coming school year, by the Board of Education, has appealed to the state commissioner of education. It has been made known by his attorneys, Kooperman & Kooperman, Mr. Coleman's petition claims that the board's action was void in that it was without recommendation of Lester Roosa, district superintendent of schools; also that the district superintendent never authorized discontinuance of Coleman's services and in fact recommended his reappointment. It is stated that the appeal is based on a new statute which gives to probationary teachers a form of tenure.

The Ellenville village board, at its July meeting, authorized payment of $2,000 to Bowe, Albertson & Associates for preliminary work on plans for a sewerage disposal system for the village. The complete plans will cost $13,000 and payment will be made as the work progresses. The board also authorized a two-man committee to study the question of municipal garbage collection. Mayor Comer Ripper named Trustees Siegel and Gentile as such committee. The proposition to locate a 1,000,000 gallon water storage tank in the north-west section of the village was approved on recommendation of the firm that is preparing plans for a sewerage disposal system. It was stated that Deyo W. Johnson had indicated that such a tank might be located there.

Acting on the petition of 19 residents of Napanoch, presented by Stanford Krom, the Napanoch town board decided to give police protection to the village from July 21 to September 6. The officer will work 40 hours a week and receive $40 a week.

Louis Atkins, a member of the Napanoch Garage baseball team, while playing with his team against Walker Valley, broke his leg above the ankle. He was treated at Veterans' Memorial Hospital and later removed to the Kingston Hospital.

Richard Comfort, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Comfort of the Greenfield road, fractured his leg when he fell down the cellar stairs at his home. He was taken to the Kingston Hospital, where the fracture was reduced by Dr. Saul Ritchie.

Recent births at Veterans' Memorial Hospital include: Sons to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Perham of Napanoch and Mr. and Mrs. Horace Ahrens of Ellenville; a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Schuyler of Spring Glen. Joyce's Indians, first half winners in the Ellenville Softball League, defeated the Monticello All Stars team last week on the Ellenville grounds, 11 to 1. They were not so lucky in their game with a picked team from the Ellenville League, however, the latter taking their measure 6 to 1. It was the first defeat of the year for the Indians.

Mrs. David Rosoff and daughter, Barbara, and Mrs. Gladys Stauleup, left Friday to make their home at Malone, where Mr. Rosoff is attending Clarkson College.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Southwick and family of Kingston are spending the summer at Beaver Dam.

Robert J. Mance, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mance, has enlisted in the navy for three years and has gone to Great Lakes Training Station.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Van Buren are moving into their new home in Green Acres.

Mrs. C. J. Perkins has returned home after spending several weeks with friends and relatives in Syracuse.

The Women's Auxiliary of Veterans' Memorial Hospital has purchased at a cost of $380 a Bellevue Suction Unit for use in the operating room. It is larger than the old machine, which had been in service for many years.

Scoresby Hose and Hook and Ladder Co. had its usual luck with the weather for the lawn party scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday nights. The first night the affair was rained out and showers intervened Thursday night. The party was continued Friday night and did good business—not, however, nearly as much as would have been done had the fire alarm not sounded during the latter part of the evening. The fire, it is understood, was in an automobile at Cragmoor.

A truck operated by Harry Smith, Jr., of Kingston, was badly damaged when it turned over near the bridge at Napanoch on Route 309. Smith, who was not injured, said that the accident was caused when the driver of a car ahead of him started to pull off the highway to his right, then apparently changed his mind and pulled back on the highway. The truck was forced to pull sharply to the right, went off the road and overturned.

Byrland Peet of Keosauqua, Miss., caught a ride by plane to Stewart Field Saturday and visited over night with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willard H. Peet. He returned to his post Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Norton of Jamaica, L. I., spent a few days at their Hermance street home, on route to the Adirondacks for a vacation.

Mrs. Pearl F. Ripper has enrolled in Teachers College, Columbia University, for the summer session.

Boy, 13, Is Held On Assault Charge

Marietta, Ga., July 23 (AP)—Police said they would seek indictments before the Cobb county grand jury today charging a 13-year-old Negro with assault with attempt to rape and assault with attempt to murder in an attack on a 60-year-old white woman.

Police Captain E. C. Wallace said the Negro, Charles Mozley, would not be brought here for the grand jury hearing but would remain in Fulton Tower in Atlanta, where he was rushed yesterday for safekeeping after he was surrounded by a mob of about 150 white men, some of them armed.

Wallace said Mozley had been identified in Atlanta by the victim of the alleged attack and by two grand daughters, aged 11 and 9, who were helping the elderly woman pick berries on the outskirts of Marietta.

He quoted the woman as saying a Negro leaped from behind a clump of bushes and knocked her to the ground, but ran away when the two children left the field screaming.

Contract Is Approved
Los Angeles, July 23 (AP)—Peggy McIntire, who began her film career at four and at 15 is one of Hollywood's youngest character actresses, had her first long-term contract approved in Superior Court yesterday. It's for seven years with R.K.O. Radio Studios, starts at $250 a week and progresses to $2,500 a week. Judge Frank G. Swain directed her to invest 12 per cent of her earnings in government bonds.

18 Persons Hurt When Bolt Hits Crowded Trolley

Pittsburgh, July 23 (AP)—A shaft of lightning which blasted a gaping hole through the top of a crowded trolley car during the height of the traffic rush hour yesterday injured 18 persons, two seriously.

Glare-blinded passengers screamed and tried to battle their way out of the smoke-filled car. Two women were trampled.

Jacob Rominoff, 58, who suffered second degree burns on the face and head, and W. T. Plough, 56, severely burned on hands and face, were detained at Mercy Hospital. Other injured persons were released after treatment.

Plough said he saw "a streak of fire about 12 inches deep" flash through the car, adding: "There was thick smoke and the fumes smelled like sulphur. The heat was like a blow torch."

Modern Building Headquarters for Ulster Firemen

Town of Esopus Completes Plans for Convention; Brief History of Port Ewen Village

Port Ewen's new town auditorium will become a virtual county capitol for visiting firemen during the three-day convention of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, officials of the association indicated today.

The structure marks a town-wide progressiveness and adds an important facility which the village lacked when it was host to the firemen ten years ago.

It is a modern building with the latest in lighting and equipment and has a seating capacity of 750. A reviewing stand for the parade on the final day of the convention, will be built in front of the structure on Salem street and Route 9-W.

All fire departments in the Town of Esopus are contributing to a program which is intended to make this 12th annual convention, the most memorable in the history of the association. It will open Thursday and close Saturday of this week when the convention parade will be held. This will be followed by a dress parade drill on the Ross Park baseball field.

The village has begun building its mood for the occasion with displays of flags and bunting.

Port Ewen acted as hosts to the second annual convention, held there July 23 and 24, 1937. It was highlighted by a colorful parade which attracted more than 6,000 people as spectators during the line of march.

As in 1937, the county convention is returning to the community where it was first held. Supervisor John T. Groves of Port Ewen was the president in 1937 and now another Port Ewen man, Edward Mains, is at the helm.

Elaborate plans have been underway for this second convention in Port Ewen and all of the true hospitality which has extended by the general residents of that village will be proffered again when county delegates assemble Thursday, July 24.

Delegates to this year's convention need no introduction to the village of Port Ewen itself but to acquaint some interested spectators who may line the streets of the community of that village, a parade in held, a few lines concerning Kingston's "neighbor" may be acceptable.

Founded in 1851
Unlike the main thoroughfare of today where fast-traveling New York city buses roll by, the early Dutch settlers of Port Ewen first traversed what was then just an Indian trail. The community was founded in 1851 by the Pennsylvania Coal Company which had a coal depot there until 1865 when it moved to Newburgh.

The early settlers divided their outposts from the hillside down to the river front where still today residents of the thriving village gain their livelihood from river traffic operating boats from Buffalo to New York.

Records which present names of most of the original settlers of what was known as the Kleine Esopus, or Little Esopus, are numerous. February 13, 1858, the Trustees of Kingston granted to Claes Westphalen and Abel Westphalen a tract of land "lying and being upon Hudson's river to the northward of Kalikon Hook, and so along said river to the bounds of Capt. John Sprague."

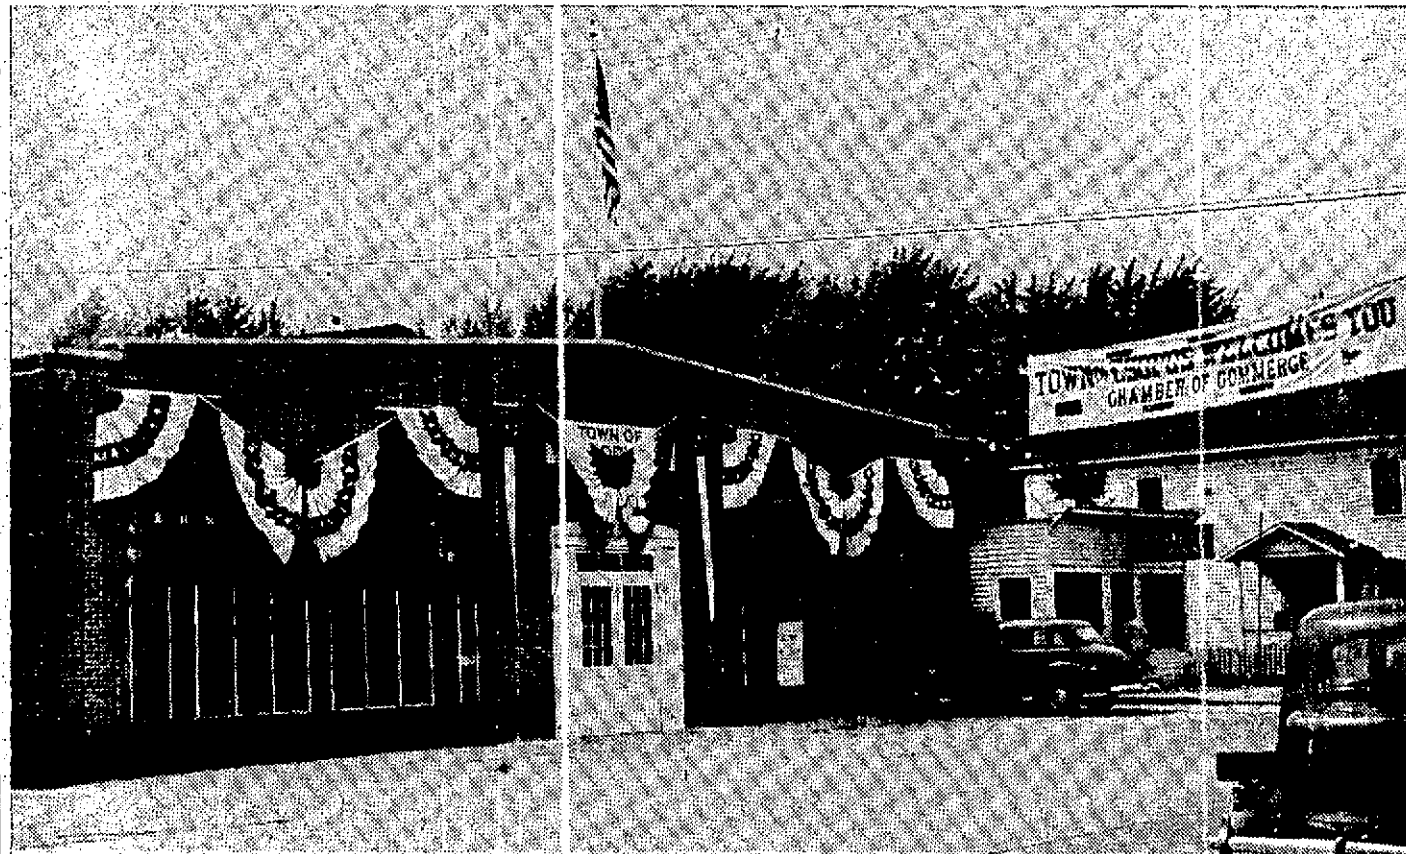

Three years prior to this a description of a survey of 2,360 acres of land lying upon the Hudson river between the Rondout

Kill and the Kleine Esopus and known by the name of Hussey's Hill, including the Kleine Esopus fly and sunken fly at the mouth of the Rondout Kill, was filed at Albany, dated June 12, 1865.

Town Meetings
The home of William Ellsworth, located about two miles south of Port Ewen, was the scene of the first and some other town meetings. The first session was held in 1811 when 155 votes were cast. John J. LeFevre was named supervisor.

Other town meetings were held at the Tjerk F. Terpenning place located south of Ulster Park near the Reformed Church. The first meeting here was held in 1813. Elections were held at the place until 1833 when they shifted to the tavern of Thomas M. Holt at Ulster Park in 1834. Meetings and elections were held there occasionally until 1840.

Further history to the already growing legends of the across-the-creek community was added in 1791 when the Reformed Protestant Dutch Church of Kleine Esopus was organized. The church was instituted by the Rev. Stephen Goethius of New Paltz. Two years later the body was incorporated. Although the church, without a regular pastor for many years, the pulpit was supplied by Mr. Deil, the Rev. Mr. Van Horn and others. But in 1799 the Rev. T. G. Smith was called and he continued his charge for about 10 years until he was succeeded by the Rev. J. R. H. Hasbrouck.

Other early Reformed Churches in the town were one at Dashville Falls, 1833; Port Ewen, incorporated in 1851 and another at St. Remy, organized in 1857 as a branch of the first Esopus Church. Among the Episcopal churches were the Ascension Church, incorporated in 1842, and the Grace Church, 1845. The Port Ewen Methodist Church was organized in 1870 and one other Methodist

Remington Rand Reopens Its Plants

North Tonawanda, N. Y., July 23 (AP)—Remington Rand, Inc., today reopened its plants here and in Tonawanda, strike bound since June 18.

The company move followed issuance of a temporary injunction by State Supreme Court Justice Raymond C. Vaughan limiting picketing.

Walter G. Gaul, president of Local 308, C.I.O. United Electrical Workers, who was served with a copy of the order, said:

"We are confident they will be unable to get a sufficient number of strikebreakers to start production."

About 1,000 union workers are striking in the Tonawandas for a 15-cent hourly wage boost. Pay
